

2020 Global Medical Inflation is at 8% but much higher in Africa

J W S E A G O N
—
caring for you

Medical inflation expected to continue rising because of advances in medical technology, the increased prevalence of chronic conditions (such as diabetes mellitus and heart disease) and cancers associated with ageing populations and unhealthy lifestyles.

Source: AON 2020 Global Medical Trend Rates Report